Summary of Existing Regulations

The 2010 California Green Building Standards Code, Title 24, Part 11, of the California Code of Regulations (CCR), also known as the California Building Standards Code, became effective on January 1, 2011.

The purpose of the California Green Building Standards Code, also known as CALGreen, is to improve public health, safety and general welfare by enhancing the design and construction of buildings through the use of building concepts having a positive environmental impact and encouraging sustainable construction practices in the following categories: planning and design; energy efficiency; water efficiency and conservation; material conservation and resource efficiency; and environmental air quality. CALGreen also includes standards designed to address unique California conditions.

Summary of Effect

- a) State Housing Law: relative to residential occupancies, buildings or structures accessory thereto.
- b) Employee Housing Act: relative to the occupancy of any buildings or structures on the property in accordance with Health and Safety Code Section 17040.
- c) Factory-Built Housing Law: relative to residential buildings, dwellings or portions thereof, or building components, or manufactured assemblies in accordance with Health and Safety Code Section 19990.
